Mr. Mathews

Dear Seniors,

You were in the eighth grade when you welcomed me to Randolph Central School. Since then I have been proud of you for you were industrious, co-operative, and challenging.

It has been gratifying to watch you lay the rugged foundation for the road of life. I am confident you will not be satisfied with this rough base. A good thick surface must still be added to insure a smooth, safe journey. You will have to develop your own formula for the top layer of your superhighway. Be skillful in blending the ingredients. Some of them are character, health, education, aspiration, perseverance, and devotion. You will think of others too.

May your trip through life be successful.

Foreword

Dear Mom and Dad,

Remember the album in which you so fondly preserved photographs of our younger days — the first baby picture, the first day of school, kindergarten graduation, the birthday party, and the first formal? Because we wish to remember this school year, we have chosen a family album as the theme for our 1957 "Hilltop."

Not only do we remember the good times that we have had together as a family, but we also remember the many times during our school years when we thought our problems were too great to overcome — but your help and guide were always there to help us. You have always been ready to see that we got to school activities, no matter at what inconvenience to you.

For these reasons we dedicate the 1957 "Hilltop" to you — our parents.

Gratefully yours,
The 1957 "Hilltop" Staff

SCHOOL SONG
RED AND WHITE

Here's a song we raise to Randolph Central School.
In our hearts our loyalty for her will rule.
May her fame for long survive.
We are here to keep alive
The spirit of the school we love.
To her we'll be true.
Red and White,
Red and White,
White for purity.
Red for courage strong.
Red and White,
Red and White,
We will always love
And cherish long.
So let our voices ring,
Ring loud and clear
With deep affection
And recollection
Of Randolph Central School.
Long may her colors wave
High on the hill
We're singing your praises
Randolph Central School.

Friends, Romans, countrymen, lend me your ears;
I come to bury Caesar, not to praise him.
The evil that men do lives after them;
The good is oft interred with their bones;
So let it be with Caesar.

The quality of mercy is not strain'd,
It droppeth as the gentle rain from heaven
Upon the place beneath: it is twice bless'd
It blesseth him that gives and him that takes:
'Tis mightiest in the mightiest; it becomes
The throned monarch better than his crown;
His sceptre shows the force of temporal power,
The attribute to awe and majesty,
Wherein doth sit the dread and fear of kings;
But mercy is above this sceptred sway,
It is an attribute to God himself,
And earthly power doth then show likest God's
When mercy seasons justice.

The Agriculture Department

"Destroy the cities and leave the farms intact and the cities will spring up again, but destroy the farm and grass will grow in the streets of every city of the nation."

With this wisdom in mind, the country's educators took steps to educate farmers so that the green would not crop in the city wayfare. One of the methods they adopted was to train men to teach farm boys the ways of becoming successful husbandmen. These men were sent out to academic schools of the nation, and they organized agriculture departments to teach plowboys to sing. In 1917 one of these pedagogues of the plow came to R.C.S.

L. W. Crittenden was the man, he started to organize the first group of boys to study successful husbandry here in February of 1917. In the middle of 1918 he left and H. M. Mapes tutored the remainder of the year. R.C.S. still was Chamberlain Institute. The first boys to peruse text on agriculture were Frank Anderson, Ellis Bailey, Orson Helms, Merle Kelley, Lambert Kenfield, Harold Lind, Addison Locke, Edward McKeever, Francis O'Neid, Walter Peterson, Edwin Rice, and De Forest Tennies.

Classes for vocational agriculture and homemaking were first held in the Chamberlain Institute building, then the Razey building, and from 1932 until in the present structure.

From 1945 up to the present, we of the agriculture department have followed, Mr. Matthew Eskeli.

We hope that this brief review of the development of teaching agriculture in our fruitful valley, will be a welcome contribution in carrying out the theme of the 1957 Hilltop—the family album.
